What fun! An incredibly rich smorgasbord of activities has been written for children on the topic of American history! And youngsters are so anxious to meet Pocahontas and the Pilgrims, cowboys and Indians, George Washington and Daniel Boone!

Yet, children of this age seek the meaning of American history too. Usually, they are just presented with a few famous people and events, but TruthQuest History includes commentary which subtly presents the thread of God's hand in American history in a much deeper and broader exploration of our past.

Our Notebooking Pages are meant to be used with the book American History for Young Students 1 (Exploration-1800) by TruthQuest History. They are another way that your child can record learned information. You will find a notebooking page for most of the topics in the program. Simply read about the topic of study, then have your child “re-tell” what they have learned on the page. Once the notebook is completed, your child will then be able to share his/her new-found knowledge with dad, grandparents, or even themselves in a creative and fun way. The notebooks also become a great way to look back over the year to see how your child has grown in language usage, penmanship, and creativity. (Recommended for grades 1 and up).
What is Notebooking?
Notebooking is a new term for an old concept—journaling! Notebooking is simply taking the old boring, black and white composition notebook and replacing it with a 3 ring binder. Then the fun begins!

Why is Notebooking a great teaching tool?
Notebooking pages give a child a place to become creative. Through notebooking, your child will be using and developing many important skills. He/She will use narration skills, writing skills, organizational skills and even artistic skills. It also allows you to know how much your child has understood and gained from the subject.

How do I use these notebooking pages with the TruthQuest History program?
You will find a notebooking page for most of the topics in the program. Simply read about the topic of study, then have your child “re-tell” what they have learned on the page. Once the notebook is completed, your child will then be able to share his/her new-found knowledge with dad, grandparents, or even themselves in a creative and fun way. The notebooks also become a great way to look back over the year to see how your child has grown in language usage, penmanship, and creativity.
